FERPA NOTICE:

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), initially called the Buckley Amendment, governs the release of records maintained by an institution of higher education and access to student records, including requests for information from parents, guardians, spouses, or others as designated by the student. Generally, without a student's written consent, the University of Utah may not disclose information from a student's educational records. For additional information regarding FERPA, please see the Student handbook located on the Web at: <http://www.acs.utah.edu/sched/handbook/toc.htm>.

Students who want to allow information released to individuals, must complete this declaration form providing a standing release to the University to disclose educational information.

I, _____, give the University of Utah Financial Aid and Scholarships office and Income Accounting and Student Loan Services permission to release information regarding the processing and delivery of my financial aid and scholarships and financial/tuition information to the individuals listed below with the appropriate PIN.
